Musicians and Sneezing.

Nobody can dispute the sincerity of the players in a symphony orchestra like the Philharmonic or the New York Symphony. Most of the time they take their work seriously, but sometimes men break loose and play tricks on another as though they were youngsters in school. Of course the audience knows nothing of these things; they're usually perpetrated in rehearsals.

The red pepper trick is the commonest. The jokers scatter it where the spon and trombone players are likely to suck it up. The result is choked sneezes. Sometimes the epidemic has even into the strings, but of the players on the wind instruments get it worst.

A matter of fact, the jokers are fighting with fire. "A confirmed sneezer can't get a job in a good orchestra, no matter how good a player he may be," said a constant sneezer. "Think of the effect of sneezing on a pianist's touch. It would spoil a whole concert, sneeze would. A conductor has to fight against a sneeze as he does at inebriety."—New York Sun.

The One Dish Diet.

A specialist said of dieting: "The simplest, easiest and most effective diet to bring down the weight is the one dish diet. At no meal, that could more than one dish be dish may be what you will—eggs, macaroni and cheese, roast potatoes, soup, beans and apples. Courses are to precede or follow. You may eat as much as you like of the dish, and yet for all that lose weight steadily. The variety of dishes—the omelette, fish, turkey, chicken, etc.—is the variety of dishes, creates artificial appetite when the really had all it requires, is compulsion. If we confine to one dish we know when enough—We don't know otherwise the result is that we soon get to the alluring natural to animals and temperate and as and women."

Dreadful Wound.

A gun, in case, rusty ball, fire any other nature, demands (men with Buckle's Arica) rent blood poison or gangrene, most surest healer for all such life for burns, boils, sores, skin rashes, chapped hands, corns or blisters. E. M. McGeachy.

The Word "Fudge."

"Fudge" is a word with a history. There are prosaic etymologists, as there always are, who derive it from a Gaelic word meaning deception, but Isaac Disraeli's view is much more interesting. He derives it from a certain Captain Fudge, who seems to have been a marine Munchausen. "You fudge it" is said to have been his crew's equivalent to the modern "Rats!" In a collection of some papers of William Crouch, the Quaker, published in 1712 it is recorded that one Degory Marshall informed Crouch that "in the year 1684 we were sentenced for banishment to Jamaica by Judges Hyde and Twisden, and our number was fifty-five. We were put on board the ship Black Eagle. The master's name was Fudge, by some called Lying Fudge."—London Standard.

A Field at Home.

A Boston gentleman was showing a West African who is interested in missionary work a number of photographs.

"What is this?" asked the visitor, gazing in wonder at one of them.

"Oh, that's a snapshot taken during a football scrimmage at the stadium." "But has your church no missionaries to send among these people?" was the quick rejoinder. — Boston Transcript.

WINS FIGHT FOR LIFE.

It was a long and bloody battle for life that was waged by Jas. B. Merabon of New York, N. Y., of which he writes: "I had lost much blood from lung hemorrhages, and was very weak and run-down. For eight months I was unable to work. Death seemed close on my heels, when I began, three weeks ago to use Dr. King's New Discovery. It has helped me greatly. It is doing all you claim." For weak, sore lungs, obstinate coughs, stubborn colds, hoarseness, asthma, hay fever or any throat or lung trouble its supreme, 50c & $1. Trial bottles free. Guaranteed by S. E. McGeachy.

Cruikshank's Long Artistic Life.

In 1883 Cruikshank was asked by the committee who exhibited his "Worship of Bacchus" to associate with that work some of his early drawings in order to prove that he was not his own grandfather!—Chesnut's "Cruikshank."

Getting in Debt.

Poverty is hard, but debt is horrible; a man might as well have a smoky house and a scolding wife, which are said to be the two worst evils of our age. — Emerson.

Making Insurance Maps.

In making insurance maps certain features are considered essential, and the growth of the system has proved their wisdom and changed them only as regards the amount of detail that has been incorporated. Of first importance were the colors to show the different materials used in the construction of a building. Naturally red seemed a proper color to signify brick and yellow to signify wood. These colors have always been employed for these materials. Other colors have been added from time to time, thus blue for stone, gray for iron, etc.

In fixing signs and characters for such details as stairways, fire escapes, dumb waiter shafts, etc., a principal object was to make them plain and distinct. They must be easily understood by an underwriter without reference to my key or marginal footnotes.

This object has been carried out with the result that when these insurance maps are examined by an insurance man today each sign or character has such an individuality of its own that it can be easily distinguished and is not confused with another. — Cassell's Magazine.

It is worse than useless to take any medicine internally for muscular or chronic rheumatism. All that is needed is an application of Chamberlain's Liniment. For sale by all Dealers.

Dot and Trousseau.

Dealing with the weaknesses of actors, some noted for meanness, a Paris contemporary relates a good story of Frederick Lemaitre, the celebrated actor, who was somewhat parsimonious. When his daughter was about to marry, Lemaitre agreed to provide the "dot" and the trousseau. "Dot," it may be observed, is the French equivalent for the English "dower" or Scottish "tocher."

When the notary came to complete the contract and was reading the terms Lemaitre said: "The daughter of Frederick Lemaitre has not need of a dot. M. Le Notaire, strike out the dot."

The prospective son-in-law was present, and he had the courage to reply: "The daughter of Frederick Lemaitre can easily clothe herself with the fame of her father. M. Le Notaire, pray strike out the trousseau."

The uniform success that has attended the use of Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has made it a favorite everywhere. It can always be depended upon. For sale by All Dealers.

There is one medicine that every family should be provided with and especially during the summer months, viz: Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is almost certain to be needed. It costs but a quarter. Can you afford to be without it? For sale by All Dealers.

Rastus and His Razor.

"You are charged with carrying a razor," said the magistrate. "What have you to say?" "But hit's a safety razor," pleaded Rastus.

"What difference does that make?" the court asked.

"Well, yo' hono,' a safety razor am carried only fo' de moral effect."
